

Dedicated gifted environments

- Do your teachers have specialized training in gifted education, and will they be offered ongoing training in this field?

- In what specific ways is your curriculum different from ordinary curricula (for non-gifted students)? Is it accelerated (or condensed), and if so, how? Is it enriched, and if so, how?

- Are your standards of evaluation different than in non-gifted programs?

- Do you make any in-class adaptations for gifted learners who don't fit the typical mold of their fellow classmates?

- If your child needs it: do you offer in-class special needs support?

- Do you offer out-of-class enrichment opportunities such as independent studies, mentorships, specialty subjects, career exploration, and leadership opportunities?

- What kinds of resources are available to students (libraries, homework help, tutoring, and counselling services)?

- What opportunities are there to interact with students not in the gifted program?

- Are there any chances for students to do Advanced Placement courses?
